

How is this different from me getting local traffic broadcast over the internet? There is no advertising involved - I can't see how this can logically be made into a money issue? I cannot understand the rationale. If you can get local channels on satellite TV, why would you not be able to get local traffic from satellite Radio?